Book Description This book examines Dostoevsky's interest in, and engagement with, "Slavophilism" - a Russian mid-nineteenth century movement of conservative nationalist thought. It explores Dostoevsky's views, as expressed in both his non-fiction and fiction, on the religious, spiritual and moral ideas which he considered to be innately Russian.

The themes in the writings of Russian writer Fyodor Dostoyevsky, which consist of novels, novellas, short stories, essays, epistolary novels, poetry, spy fiction and suspense, include suicide, poverty, human manipulation, and morality. Dostoesky was deeply Orthodox and religious themes are found throughout his works, especially in those written after his release from prison in 1854. His early works emphasised realism and naturalism, as well as social issues such as the differences between the po

By S. Flannagan / Nov. 17, 2020 1:22 am EST. Fyodor Mikhailovich Dostoevsky (November 11, 1821 – February 9, 1881) is one of the most influential novelists of the last two hundred years. His works have come to be known as masterpieces of the genre, notable for their deep psychological insight and thoughtful, philosophical social critiques, while many twentieth-century commentators have named him as the father of existentialism, prefiguring the work of Jean-Paul Sartre by several decades.
